

The heatmap displays a 10x10 grid of colored squares. The diagonal elements, from top-left to bottom-right, are bright yellow. The off-diagonal elements are dark purple, with some variation in shade, suggesting a symmetric matrix with a strong diagonal dominance. The overall pattern is consistent with a distance or similarity matrix where the highest values are on the diagonal.

